

Compliance Bulletin

New Permitting Handbook Published

west virginia department of environmental protection

The Division of Mining and Reclamation is pleased to announce the publishing of a new and improved Permitting Handbook. Some notable changes, to the handbook, include:

- Handbook is now one document instead of separate sections
- Interactive Table of Contents
- “Return Home” button at the bottom of each page to take you back to the Table of Contents
- Live links to rules, regulations, policies, procedures, other handbooks, databases, reports, other related sites, etc.
- Clear and concise directions for each application type including filing fee, advertisement and comment period requirements.
- Updated references to all policies and procedures